A look back at July...

Dr. David Elkowitz from Zucker School of Medicine at Hofstra delivered our July Med Ed Grand Rounds for us about the “Student as Facilitator” as well as a bonus session about lessons learned implementing their problem-based learning model P.E.A.R.L.S. If you attended this session we would love your feedback. Please click here to give us your feedback from Dr. Elkowitz visit.

If you missed either of these sessions you can view the recording here: Med Ed Grand Rounds – Student as Facilitator, and Lessons Learned from PEARLS

Thank you to everyone that took the time to come see one of Regina Holliday’s painting demonstration and presentation on the Power of the Patient Story. Dr. Scott became the newest member of the walking gallery. For more information on Regina Holliday you can visit her blog here. If you were able to make one of these sessions we would love your feedback. Please click here to give us your feedback.

If you missed this session you can view the recording here: The Power of the Patient Story – Regina Holliday

July saw the return of the Simulation Series. Karen Meadows and Chase Crossno delivered a session for us on how to debrief in a way that helps learners develop clinical judgement and critical thinking skills. If you attended this session please give us your feedback here.
