FRAMEWORK FOR FACULTY
POST COVID-19

Facilitated by Judy Bernas; Panelists include Jennifer Allie, Ph.D., Kelly Pagidas, MD, and April Bleich, MD (left to right)

Resource of the Month:
Re-Imagining the Work-Life Framework for Faculty Post COVID-19

June 15, 2021 | 2:00 PM – 3:00 PM | Zoom

Facilitated by Judy Bernas

Panelists include Jennifer Allie, Ph.D., Kelly Pagidas, M.D., and April Bleich, M.D.

Join us for a facilitated discussion with our panelists on re-imagining the work-life framework for faculty post COVID-19. In this session, panelists will discuss work-life balance and integration realities of faculty in academic medicine; explore the impact of COVID-19 on careers; and discuss how the pandemic brought forth opportunities to re-think and re-imagine our own work-life paradigms.

If you would like to ask questions to our panelists, please view the question submission form here. Questions will be answered during the session.

Please e-mail MDFacultyDev@tcu.edu for Zoom details or see

Clinical Preceptor Corner

Hello LIC Preceptors!

In a year that started with an explosion of COVID cases followed by snowmageddon, we were not sure we would have made it to this point. That being said, we are just past the halfway mark of the 40-week Phase 2 Ambulatory LIC. Our students have been receiving an amazing clinical education as well as participating in many clinical experiences, and this is all thanks to you. The LIC team is so grateful for your commitment of time and energy to educate our future physicians. We truly could not do this without you.

Please visit the following link to read the entire Preceptor Corner on what giving your student graduated responsibility means as well as how to perform a competency-based assessment.

SOM Career and Professional Development Team is seeking Physician Mentors!

The SOM Career and Professional Development team is recruiting board-certified physicians to share their career experiences with students. There are four different ways this can be accomplished: Lunch and Learn Speaker, Career Advisor, Mentor, and/or Whole Person Doctor Series. If interested, please reach out to the Career and Professional Development team at MDCareer@tcu.edu

June Grand Rounds

Artificial Intelligence: An Overview and Demonstration of Applications

Facilitated by Guillermo A. Cecchi, Ph.D., IBM Principle Research Staff Member- Manager, Computational Psychiatry and Neuroimaging and Sai Bezwada, M.S., IBM Client Technical Leader for Texas

June 8, 2021

7:30 AM – 8:30 AM

Via Zoom

No RSVP

In this 60-minute session, Sai Bezwada and Dr. Guillermo Cecchi will present advancements in Machine Learning and Artificial Intelligence (AI) and how these technologies assist in solving some government, medical, and educational problems. As advancements in Machine Learning and AI have exponentially exploded, this session will provide a perspective of some of the capabilities and functionalities and how these technologies assist the community-at-large as well as some of its known limitations. Examples within the computational linguistics as it is applied to psychiatric conditions will be demonstrated to provide some contextual framing to current and the foreseeable future capabilities and applications. Note: This session will not count for CME but will be recorded.
