FACULTY DEVELOPMENT NEWSLETTER

JUNE 3, 2022

Resource of the Month

Academic Career Planning Series

(on Canvas, TCU login required)

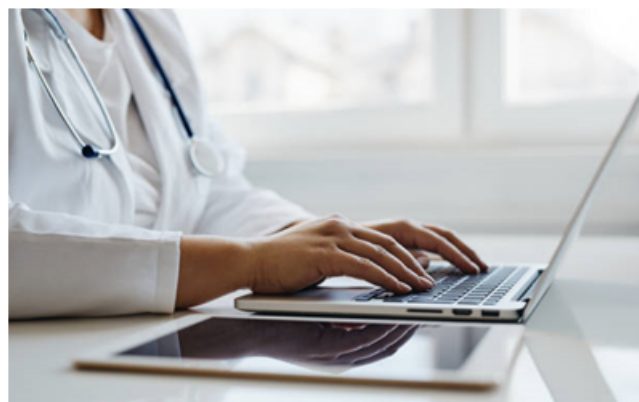

The Office of Faculty Affairs and Development is pleased to offer the Academic Career Planning series, designed to provide information to faculty about the School of Medicine resources and faculty advancement. Faculty who choose to participate will learn:

- To understand and apply the guidelines for rank
- To develop an academic portfolio and personal statement
- To utilize modules in Canvas that give an overview of the faculty promotion process in the School of Medicine

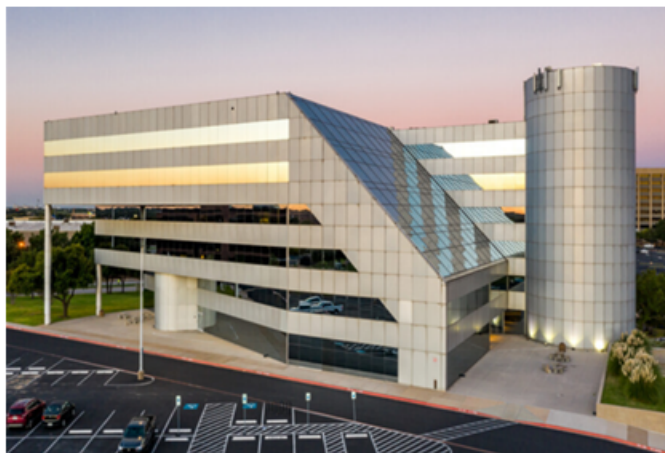

To learn more about the Academic Career Planning Series, contact MDFacultyDev@tcu.edu.

Coming Soon: The Big Move!

We made it to the month of June: the month of our big move! The majority of the TCU School of Medicine and its offices will be relocating to 4055 International Plaza. Clinical Skills and Simulation will be relocating to 1651 W. Rosedale Street while Anatomy will remain at UNTHSC.

Faculty and staff are asked to work from home during the week of June 13th – 17th, as movers will be in the process of transferring everything from our current office space to our new location during that time period. We would like to express our sincere gratitude for your patience and flexibility during this time. Through the chaos, this is a wonderful opportunity for the TCU School of Medicine to grow and thrive. Thank you to our floor captains, Information Technology team, our facilities manager, Shawn Wagner, and to everyone who has contributed to making this transition possible!

Please contact Shawn Wagner at s.wagner@tcu.edu or 817-727-0998 for additional help or questions about our move.

Welcome to the TCU School of Medicine

Charles Gullo, Ph.D., Associate Dean of Faculty Development

Please join us in welcoming Dr. Charles Gullo to our Faculty Development Team! Charles joined TCU Medicine at the end of April as the Associate Dean for Faculty Development and Associate Professor in the department of Medical Education. Charles is an immunologist by training and worked on cancer immunology translational research for a number of years.

In Singapore, Charles changed his career when he joined Duke/NUS in 2007 and taught immunology using Team-Based Learning. He caught the teaching and education administration bug and has been involved in this area ever since.

His current interests include learning how to learn, exploring scholarship opportunities in medical education, enhancing medical education training and in maximizing the student-centric self-directed learning environment.

Charles enjoys spending time with his young son, travelling around the globe with his wife, trying new and sometimes exotic foods, running, biking, and exploring national and state parks.

Hannah Drake, Faculty Development Coordinator

Please welcome another new member of our Faculty Development team, Hannah Drake! Hannah began her job as a faculty development coordinator in early May 2022. She discovered her passion for working in higher education administration while serving in the music school at Southwestern Seminary.

Hannah is from Arlington, TX where she currently lives with her husband John and their two cats. She holds a Bachelor of Music in Vocal Performance and a Bachelor of Arts in Communication – Advertising from the University of Texas at Arlington. She hopes to pursue her masters at TCU in either Spring or Fall 2023.

Hannah enjoys exploring Fort Worth, dabbling in design and photography, singing as a mezzo-soprano soloist, watching Star Wars, hosting friends and family at her home, and going on road trips with her husband. She is grateful for the opportunity to work at the TCU School of Medicine with her wonderful OFAD team!

HuMed: Merging Medical Humanities and Creative Non-Fiction by The Compassionate Practice® is an online journal specializing in Medical Humanities and other forms of engagement with literature, critical theory, the arts, and history.

HuMed features creative non-fiction, autotheory, poetry, short stories, original artwork, and critical essays that address the interdisciplinary side of medicine and humanistic care.

"Bones" by Lauren Moore, MS2

Submissions are posted on a monthly basis and are open to anyone at the TCU and UNT School of Medicine: students, faculty, and staff. Although not all pieces may be accepted in their original form, we are committed to offering support for revision until they are publication-ready. Anyone who submits to HuMed will be paired with a member of our editorial board for ongoing guidance.

Don't forget to subscribe to the HuMed email listserv to receive a newsletter featuring humanities in medicine content, events and opportunities!

SOM Career and Professional Development Team is seeking Physician Mentors

DO YOU LOVE WORKING WITH MEDICAL STUDENTS?

The SOM Career and Professional Development team wants you to share your career experiences with our students!

Upcoming Faculty Affairs and Development Sessions

June Grand Rounds: What If They Aren't Playing Our Game?

Education Theories, Curriculum Intent, and Learner Goals Re-examined

Facilitated by Glenn Regehr, Ph.D., Professor, Dept. of Surgery Senior Scientist, Centre for Health Education Scholarship, Faculty of Medicine, University of British Columbia

June 7, 2022

8:30 AM – 10:00 AM

Zoom

Join Us Here

In this 90-minute session, Dr. Regehr will re-examine the influence of environmental factors on learner goals, the influence of learner goals in relation to curricular design, and the mechanisms necessary to ultimately achieve both educator and learner goals. Join us for a deeper dive into aligning our learner goals with our curricular goals.

MedEd Journal Club

Facilitated by Swapan Nath, Ph.D.

July 13, 2022

2:00 PM – 4:00 PM

In-Person (Location TBD) and via Zoom

Join Us Here

Journal Club is a 60-minute session where facilitators select a scholarly article for the group to review and facilitate questions to promote discussion. Journal Club is an excellent way to analyze how academic articles are constructed and written, providing examples of how to go about your own academic writing and sharing it with other faculty members.

The in-person location for this Journal Club session will be in our new building, International Plaza. The Office of Faculty Development will send an update about the location once it has been determined.

Facilitated by: Swapan Nath, PhD
