

BURNETT SCHOOL OF MEDICINE AT TCU

DEAN'S COUNCIL

Preparing Tomorrow's Physicians for the Future of Medicine

Physician education has traditionally consisted of layering the latest technology and research advances on top of a traditional anatomy and human systems core. Then the field work begins. The Anne Burnett Marion School of Medicine at TCU believes that the toolbox should be enlarged and re-arranged.

Our students learn by doing, from Day One.

Champion Their Journey

As a member of the Dean's Council at the Anne Burnett Marion School of Medicine, your support provides the flexible funding needed to create and shape opportunities to develop the innovative, empathetic physicians we need.

Annual gifts of $5,000 or more to any designation within the School of Medicine are recognized with Dean's Council membership. Council members are listed on the website, and enjoy exclusive access to various events and specialized engagement throughout the year.

Join fellow community and industry leaders as a Dean's Council member.
